The Jury Returns Unanimous Verdict

A jury consisting of some of the most distinguished chemists of America has returned an unanimous verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Knicker et al., vs. Coca-Cola. It will be remembered that some time ago a rumor was circulated to the effect that Coca-Cola contained injurious materials and was therefore harmful in its effect upon the human body.

The rumor was originated by an unscrupulous competitor of Coca-Cola, the popular temperance drink, spread rapidly and found some credence among those who did not know the origin of the report.

The jury finds that not only does Coca-Cola contain nothing harmful, but that it is much superior to tea and coffee in that it is free from tannic acid and, therefore, promotes digestion instead of retarding it. Each of the distinguished chemists reported that he had made a careful chemical analysis of Coca-Cola and found it to contain no "dope" of any kind. If you would like to see copies of these letters, write to the Coca-Cola Co., Atlanta, Ga., for a free copy of a booklet entitled "The Truth About Coca-Cola." The jury was as follows:

1. Jno. M. McCandless, State Chemist of Georgia.
2. B. B. Ross, State Chemist of Alabama.
3. Dr. A. L. Metz of Tulane University.
4. Prof. W. B. Bursey of South Carolina College.
5. Prof. C. H. Palm of the University of Texas.
6. Dr. Wm. H. Taylor, State Chemist of Virginia.
7. Dr. Louis Schaefer, Prest. Schaefer Alkaloid Works, Maywood, N. J.
8. Prof. Emerson R. Miller of Aik. Polytechnic Institute.
9. Dr. J. C. Mims, Chemist of the Board of Health, New Orleans.

ALFALFA GROWERS GROW OPTIMISTIC

Discussions at El Paso Meeting Forecast Prosperity for Southwestern Farmers.

King Alfalfa, its growth and sale, was discussed Wednesday in the chamber of commerce at the annual meeting of the Southwestern Alfalfa Growers' federation. B. J. Viljoen, former vice president, but elected to the presidency for the ensuing year, presided, and R. E. Bowden, re-elected secretary, acted as such. A general spirit of optimism prevailed among those addressing the meeting.

E. B. Hoagland of the Mesilla Valley Produce exchange, spoke of the growth of their association, the loyal cooperation of its members and of their prospects for the coming year, which he predicted will even excel the success of the past.

Mr. Klineham, the secretary and treasurer of the same association gave a report of his work for the year including a trip through Texas, visiting the trade. He spoke of the subjects of bringing the consignee and shipper closer together by establishing such grades of alfalfa as will eliminate disputes, by formulating trade rules which will work to the advantage of both shipper and dealer. He brought out the fact that the grades and rules established by the federation, while not entirely satisfactory, are at present taken as standard by the trade all over the state of Texas. He also said that the trade was more than willing to cooperate with the various associations in introducing alfalfa into new territory and in bringing the alfalfa business to a more systematic basis.

Mr. Bowden, of the Berino-Anthony Farmers' association, spoke of the needs of cooperation in weeding out the unscrupulous and undesirable dealers. Calling attention to shippers of the alfalfa, he said that the alfalfa dealer while in possession of various banks.

He also gave a very satisfactory report of their association for the past year.

Gen. Viljoen Speaks

Gen. Viljoen, of the Western Mesilla Valley Farmers' union, the youngest association of the federation, spoke of their persistency in furthering the cooperative plans of the federation, calling attention to the fact that a valuable work can be carried on at home by educating the farmer as well as the dealer. Expressing his belief in the federation as a coming factor in the commercial world.

A committee was appointed to raise and have printed the bylaws of the federation. A committee was also appointed to be known as the extension committee. Duties same to be the revision of grades and trade rules, the drafting of educational circulars for the farmer and pamphlets concerning the merit and feeding value of alfalfa grown in the southwest as given by government statistics, the latter to be used in extending markets.

WOMAN'S POWER IN CHINESE EMPIRE

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Dr. Gilbert Reid, of the International Institute of China, spoke at the Twentieth Century club here this evening on the social life of women of the better class of Chinese and Manchurian families. He said in part:

"In America, we hear of woman's suffrage; in China we have woman's sovereignty. The Chinese woman has not been discussed because the autocracy of woman has been secured without its aid. For nearly half a century, a strong minded woman directed the affairs of the Chinese empire, in peace and turmoil, in times of calamity and of prosperity, with other nations as friends or again appearing as foes.

"With all these changes, it was a woman's hand—that of the late empress dowager—that held the helm of the ship of state. Gray haired mandarins, aristocratic Manchou noblemen, great scholars, renowned diplomats, experienced statesmen, entered the inner hall of the palace and bowed their heads to the ground in humble obedience before her masterful personality.

"Even now there comes another possibility of leadership by another Manchou woman. The prince regent, while possessed with power for the moment, must not forget that there is another empress dowager presiding in the inner precincts of the palace, and acting as mother to the boy emperor. She may yet choose to come out more openly, as did the former empress dowager, into the life of the nation, and exert a controlling influence on its affairs. While not the strong personality of her aunt, the late empress dowager, she may yet be induced, out of opposition to some of the measures and favoritism of the prince regent, to assert that which may be regarded as her rightful authority.

"In China there are differences of opinion and mutual jealousies, which are only made known through the quiet whisperings of private confidences. But in the United States, who have flashed out before the whole world, recrimination, slander, libel and false accusations, characteristic of our national politics. In China, the women know how to gossip, as they do here, but there is less publicity and less harm to one's self or to others."

INDUSTRIAL BOOM STARTS AT TEXLINE

Discovery of Coal and Clays Followed by Movement For Factories.

Texline, Tex., Nov. 3.—The recent discovery of vast beds of coal and valuable clays near the town of Texline in the extreme northwest part of the Panhandle, is exciting considerable interest, and plans are now being made for the creation of a large plant for the manufacture of fire brick, building and paving brick, terra cotta and hollow ware, as well as various kinds of ornamental pottery ware. S. C. Walker, a mineral expert, who has been employed to make a careful study of these deposits of clays, makes this statement in regard to the fire clay and shale found in this region:

"The fire clay is the finest I have ever inspected in all my experience as a mining engineer. It is bedded very close, and is in tubes or balls, and when exposed to the sun will grain very quickly. I have had this fire clay tested at 2800 degrees of heat and have become thoroughly convinced that for the manufacture of a high grade of fire brick this clay can have no superior. The shale, which is also found in unlimited quantities, is of fine class as any I have ever examined, that of Coffeyville, Kansas, not excepted. This shale is suitable for the manufacture of building and paving brick and vitrifies at 2300 degrees of fire heat."

Coal in sufficient quantity to supply all of the state of Texas for years to come, lies under these deposits of shale and clay, thus making the land double rich in wealth-yielding properties. This great manufacturing and mining industry, in due course of time, will be one of the leading industries in the great southwest.

ARE WORKING FOR MEXICO'S TRADE

Furniture Makers of Michigan Establish Bureau to Promote Mexican Business.

That the far north is awake to the value of trade in Mexico seems true from the establishment of a bureau for Mexican trade promotion in Grand Rapids, Mich., for years the largest furniture manufacturing city in the world. El Paso will be benefited by any shipping activity from the north as against European importation. Regarding this bureau, the Evening Press of Grand Rapids says:

The services of this bureau are free to the manufacturers who seek export trade with Mexico. Western Michigan manufacturers are invited to send in any advertising matter, price lists, photos, etc., and they will be furnished with all information regarding Mexican opportunities for the sale of their products. For example: If a new public building is being erected the furniture manufacturers will be advised as to the specifications and invited to send in bids for furnishing the building and the manufacturers of other lines will be requested to submit estimates for such other supplies as may be required.

Price lists and printed matter should be furnished in Spanish as well as English, but where a firm has no Spanish correspondent, the subject matter will be translated at no cost except for printing the same. L. L. Roman, 424 Ashton building, is in charge of the bureau.

GOOD GOVERNMENT EXPERTS TO MEET

National Municipal League Wages Effective War on Municipal Extravagance.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The interest of thinking Americans will be centered on this city during the annual convention of the National Municipal league during Nov. 14 to 18.

The league, it is stated, will deal with such important civic questions as municipal economy, corrupt practices in politics, direct nomination and franchise legislation.

Secretary Clinton Rogers Woodruff announced today that he had received word from several hundred experts and workers in the good government movement, including governors, mayors and other public officers, signifying their intention to attend the Buffalo meeting.

Ex-attorney general Bonaparte, who was a prominent member of the Roosevelt cabinet and who has been president of the league for seven years, will deliver the chief address in Buffalo, his subject being "Patriotism in Municipal Affairs." Mr. Bonaparte will retire from the presidency this year and his probable successor is William Dudley Foulke of Richmond, Ind. Formerly United States civil service commissioner, Mr. Foulke will speak on "Conservation in Municipalities."

In view of the agitation everywhere for independent political action and the lessening of the power of the political machine, the yearly review of the situation by secretary Woodruff will be an important feature of the proceedings.

William Allen White, editor of the Emporia, Kas., and one of the foremost "progressives" in the west, will speak on "The American Genius for Organization, Public and Private." George McAneny, president of the borough of Manhattan, who was elected on an independent ticket at the time Mayor Gaynor was chosen, will discuss "Team Work in Municipal Government."

The league, with its accompanying conferences for good city government, has done more for betterment of municipal administration than any other agency of this character which now exists, or ever did exist in this country. This success is due to the fact that the members of this organization have not only interest but that of improving the conditions of municipal government.

FAIR ASSOCIATION COMES OUT AHEAD

Amistad, N. M., Nov. 3.—At the third annual meeting of the Southern Union County Fair association, which has just closed here, reports showed all debts and premiums paid and money in the treasury. Richard Hauser, one of Amistad's enterprising settlers, set out 8000 little seedling black locust trees, between two and three years ago. Nearly every tree has grown and flourished, and now has the finest grove of young trees that can be found on these great prairies.

Principal Ralph A. Jones was given a pleasant surprise party by the pupils of the intermediate and high school grades. Music, games, refreshments and a good time were enjoyed, at his home.

Great preparations are being made for the annual United Brethren conference, which is to convene here on November 10. Bishop Weakley is to preside.

McVEAGH APPEALS TO REPUBLICANS

Says They Must Carry Forward Their Tariff Revision Plans.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 3.—As the twig is bent in 1910, the tree will be inclined in 1912, declared secretary of the treasury MacVeagh here last night in an address in which he urged Ohio Republicans to keep in power the Republican party, "the most powerful political organization of progress existing today in any nation of the world," and to endorse William H. Taft, "already laden with practical and permanent triumphs and not in any degree near the end of his broad and wise plans and purposes of public usefulness."

Acknowledging fear of possible defeat for the Republican party in the coming elections, Mr. MacVeagh said that the "demand of the time, therefore, so far as we Republicans are concerned, is that we shall each all 'sit up nights' to think out ways to secure the triumph of the party and to think out ways of keeping it in power."

"The country needs it," he continued, "and every legitimate interest in the country needs it; and now that we have become a real world power, the world needs it. It is our duty to our party to minimize our differences."

"Ever since 1895 this party has not been the governmental hope of the nation, but it is a constantly growing and developing practical author of great and wholesome national development."

"The Payne tariff law is the first legislative act in the progress of the actual revision of the tariff, president Taft is the leader of this movement for tariff revision. He is not only the leader, but he is the successful leader. He nationalized and made the movement possible in precisely the sense in which president Roosevelt nationalized and made possible the cause of conservation."
